Re: Collins v. Yodle, et al.

Dear Mr. Collins:

I received your January 2, 2011 letter, regarding your objections to the Defendants' Responses to your Interrogatories / Document Demands, which I sent you on October 15, 2010. I have reviewed each of the specific items that you indicated that you felt were deficient, and respectfully disagree with your conclusion.

The Defendants responded to each of those items to the best of their knowledge and ability, except where the item requested information which the Defendants consider proprietary and/or a trade secret, or not reasonably calculated to lead to discovery of admissible evidence based upon the claims raised in your Complaint. Please note that, although the Defendants interposed Objections to your Interrogatories, "for the record," they did attempt to provide responsive Answers, which, I am confident, Judge Hummel, if he is asked to review them, will determine are reasonable and adequate.

In the meantime, you had indicated when we met with Judge Hummel that you would be providing me with Responses to the Defendants' Interrogatories and Document Demands this past week, and I did not receive them. Please let me know when I can expect to receive them.

Very truly yours,

O'CONNELL AND ARONOWITZ
